Welcome address by H.E. Luca Gori
Ambassador of Italy to the Republic of Serbia

Dear entrepreneurs,

I am very pleased that Italy is participating as a Partner Country in this special edition of the Novi Sad Agricultural Fair, which celebrates this year a double anniversary: the 90th edition of the agricultural exhibition and the centenary of the Fair itself. I welcome our 21 companies at the Italian Pavillion and I thank the Italian Trade Agency in Belgrade for the organization. Thanks to the Italian Cultural Institute, we will also offer a varied cultural programme, in a sort of “Italian Week in Novi Sad” with theater performances, music, cinema and exhibitions at the museum.

The Italian partnership with the Novi Sad Fair builds on the important results achieved in the past and in the traditional excellent bilateral relations. This is part of a wider picture. Also in 2022 Italy was Serbia’s third commercial partner, with our bilateral trade that set an all-time record of almost 4.6 billion euros. About 1,200 Italian companies are registered in the Country, employing 50,000 people overall and contributing to generate 5.5% of the Serbian national GDP. Italy is also one of the first foreign investors in Serbia: out of the 42 billion euros of FDI received by Serbia since 2007, Italy contributed to 10.9% of them in terms of number of projects and 11.8% in terms of value.

Italy and Serbia boast a very good exchange in the agri-food sector, a relationship that we intend to strengthen by promoting the excellence of Italian know-how in a sector that represents 6% of Serbian GDP. We can work together to guarantee the quality of our products, food safety and traceability of the supply chain, as well to exchange best practices and promote technology transfer for farm mechanization. We do believe there is great room for mutual collaboration in this field.

That is why one of the pillars of the Business and Science Forum Italy – Serbia, held in Belgrade on 21-22 March 2023, was sustainable agriculture and agri-tech, a sector that has significant development potential between our two Countries. On the same occasion, we also signed - among others - important Memoranda between the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of Serbia and Filiera Italia on improving cooperation in the agriculture and food industry sector and between CREA and BioSense Institute on agri-tech.

Building on this key bilateral event, the Novi Sad International Fair represents a step further to boost the cooperation between Italy and Serbia both at commercial and research level.

In conclusion, roots are solid. Now we need to plant new seeds of collaboration in innovative sectors. I count on your help to reach this goal and I wish to all the participating companies and operators a fruitful experience.
